

Piąta prezentacja grupy (Edycja 5)
Theater Team
Scenariusz przedstawienia teatralnego „Kot w butach”
„ Puss in Boots” by Charles Perrault (April 2013)

Stage design and prop:

- Posters: a castle, a mill
- A Rocking – horse
- A big carriage
- Blue material as water with paper fish
- Paper sun, flowers, trees, mushrooms, grass
- A rabbit
- A rake, a shovel
- Costumes for actors and a narrator
- cardboard presents
- pictures of rabbits
- Jelly mouse
- Sweets for audience
- A CD with sounds of splashing water, yelling lion and magic

SCENE 1

Narrator:

This is where our story starts – inside a little mill. The miller asks to see his sons because he’s really ill.

Father:

I’m dying sons, there’s not much time – but what I have is yours. William, you’re the oldest, so the mill is yours, of course.

William:

Thank you father!

Father:

George, you take the horse – don’t let it too fat!

George:

Thank you!

Father:

And Tom, my son, the youngest, you can have my cat!

Tom:

I know my father loves me. I’m very sure of that. But I need food and money, and not a silly cat!

Narrator:

The cat looks up at Tom and says,

Puss:

I'm not a silly cat! Please bring me a pair of boots – and I need a coat and a hat!

Tom:

What a clever cat you are to talk to me like that! I'm going to call you 'Puss in Boots'. That's a good name for a cat!

SONG: The Father's Gift :

Oh, poor young Tom!

What can you do?

You've just got a cat.

It's not much, it's true.

But, look! It speaks!

It wants a hat,

A coat and red boots!

What a strange cat!

Your father's gift looks very small.

But soon you will see it's not small at all!

SCENE 2

Narrator:

Puss takes a sack into the woods and gets a little rabbit. And then he takes it to the King, who is very pleased to have it.

Puss:

It's from the Prince of Carabas. He caught it in the woods.

King:

I want to thank him for his gift and tell him that it's good!

Narrator:

Puss goes back to his master and then he says to him,

Puss:

It's such a lovely sunny day! Why don't you have a swim? (Tom's wearing a swimming mask and jumping into the water – blue material; the sound of water)

Narrator:

While Tom is in the river, Puss takes his clothes away and then he runs along the road, where the King is on his way.

Puss:

(Screaming) Someone stole my master's clothes! We need your help today! He doesn't have a thing to wear – they took them all away!

King:

Please give him these,

Narrator:

The good King says, and now Tom's clothes are new.

Then Alice asks her father,

Alice:

Can the Prince come with us, too?

Narrator:

And now the clever little cat has got a clever plan. He knows about a castle with an ogre – a giant man!

Puss:

I can get that castle - and make Tom rich today!

Narrator:

He sees some farmers working. They are cutting down the hay.

Puss:

I'd like you to say something to the Princess and the King. And then I promise to help you with the giant - and everything.

Narrator:

So when the farmers see the King, they all bow down and say,

Farmers:

We work for the Prince of Carabas and we wish you a good day!

SONG: Puss in Boots!

Puss is clever, it is true.

And now he's got a plan.

He wants to help his master

And make him a rich man.

Chorus: Puss in Boots! Puss in Boots! Red boots, a coat and hat! Puss in Boots! Puss in Boots! What a clever cat!

First he goes to see the King and gives him a fat rabbit.

He tells him it's a present.

The king so pleased to have it!

SCENE 3

Narrator:

Clever Puss goes to the castle and says to the giant mas,

Puss:

Can you turn into an animal? I don't think you can!

Ogre:

I can turn into an animal, or anything at all.

Narrator:

And the ogre turns into a lion, right there – inside the hall!

( the magic sound and the ogre's putting a lion's mask on his face, then the sound of yelling lion)

Puss:

A lion is good. It's big and strong. But a mouse is best of all! It's easy to be something big, but hard to be so small.

Narrator:

The giant turns into a mouse, and runs along the floor. Puss catches it and kills it, then waits outside the door.

( the magic sound and the ogre's running away leaving a little jelly mouse. Puss's eating the mouse)

Narrator:

Soon Puss sees the King approach and waves for him to wait. Tom is shocked to see his cat standing at the gate.

Puss:

This is my master's castle. He's very rich, you see.

Narrator:

And then Tom turns to Alice and gets down on one knee.

Tom:

I want to be your husband. Will you be my wife? You're the woman that I want to be with all my life.

Narrator:

And so we end our story with a wedding – yes, it's true! And everyone is happy, because of Puss in Boots!

SONG: Presents!

When you get a present,

Be happy! Say 'thank you'!

Any present, big or small, is good and that is true!

Chorus: Presents are all special even if they're small. We get them out of love - the nicest gift of all!

Tom thought Puss was silly

but he was wrong, you see.

Now he's rich because of Puss

And as happy as can be!

Repeat chorus x2