

Scenariusz językowego przedstawienia teatralnego „ The story of Easter”

Narrator: It's the time of Easter, near the forest and the farm. The chicks are looking for the eggs, but there's a big, bad wolf.....

Look! Listen! Be quiet!

Bunnies (1,2,3): *Down in the forest early in the morning,
See the little Easter bunnies all in a row,
Eggs in their baskets brightly painted,
Ready, steady, clap – clap- clap, off they go.*

Chick 1: Look! Where are my sisters?

Chick 2: Have you got the eggs?

Chick 1: No! I have got only three eggs in my basket. One... Two... Three.

Chick 3: Listen!Look! There are Easter bunnies in the forest.

Chick 2: Let's go and ask them!

Chickens (1,2,3): *Down in the forest early in the morning,
See the little Easter chicks all in a row,
Eggs in their baskets brightly painted,
Ready, steady, clap – clap- clap, off they go.*

Bunny 1: What are you doing here?

Bunny 2: You can be lost.

Bunny 3: Where is your farm? The bad wolf lives in this forest.

Farmer's son: Where are my chicks? I'm crying. Where are they. They are lost.

Farmer: Don't worry! Easter is coming. I will find your chicks.

Chick 2: We are not afraid of wolves.

Chick 1: Look! There are my sisters in the bunny's basket.?

Chick 3: Have you got the eggs?

Bunny 1: No, that's so wrong. I don't agree with you. They are Easter eggs.

Chick 1: No! I have got only three eggs in my basket. You have got my eggs.

Chick 3: Listen!Look! There are farmers coming.

Chick 2: No, it's a wolf.

Chicks 1,2,3: Run !

Chickens (1,2,3): *Down in the forest early in the morning,
See the little Easter chickens all in a row,
Eggs in their baskets brightly painted,
Ready, steady, clap – clap- clap, off they go.*

Bunny 2: It isn't a wolf. They are farmers.
Bunny 1: They can't find us. The Easter is tomorrow.
Bunny 3: Let's go.

Bunnies (1,2,3): *Down in the forest early in the morning,
See the little Easter bunnies all in a row,
Eggs in their baskets brightly painted,
Ready, steady, clap – clap- clap, off they go.*

Chick 2: Let's go and ask the farmers for help.

A wolf: Good morning, my sweet little chickens.

Chick 1: We are not chickens.

Chick 2: We are chicks.

Chick 3: We are small.

A wolf: I'm hungry!..... I like eating little chickens.

Chick 1: A wolf can't hear. I think he hasn't got ears.

Chick 2: And eyes. He can't see we are little chicks.

Chick 3: But he has got a mouth and big teeth.

Chicks 1,2,3: He can eat us. Run away!!!

Chickens (1,2,3): *Down in the forest early in the morning,
See the little Easter chickens all in a row,
Eggs in their baskets brightly painted,
Ready, steady, clap – clap- clap, off they go.*

A wolf: Easter is coming. Let's find some chocolate. I'm still hungry.

Farmer's son: Have you got my chicks, dad?

Farmer: No, but I'm looking for them now. Look! Those are the chicks.

Farmer's son: I'm so happy! My poor, little chicks. Where have you been?

Chicks: We are looking for the eggs.

Chick 1: The wolf is in the forest.

Chick 2: He wants to eat us.

Chick 3: He likes eating little chicks.

Farmer: Look! Your eggs are Easter eggs now.

Farmer's son: They are painted.

Chick 1: They are beautiful. Thank you.

Chick 2: Put them in the basket.

Chick 3: Let's go to the farm.

Chicks and farmers: *Down in the forest early in the morning,
See the little Easter chicks all in a row,
Eggs in their baskets brightly painted,
Ready, steady, clap – clap- clap, off they go.*
